INSHING COMPANY having received

addition to their stock of new and beautifobling type, will execute orders to any extending the addition and despatch, at a slight advanon Spa Franciscoprices AN EXCEEDINGLY "UNPROFES SIONAL POLITICIAN."

"My name is Norval on the Grampia Hills" said a stage-struck individual, fore John Kemble. " In Heaven's name, ther said the disgusted manager, " what is it at Drury Lane." The anecdote is an apt illustration of that parrot-like attention to words and total disregard of sense, which is sometimes exhibited by aspiring writers, as well as by would-be actors. In a few issues back we gave an extract from the speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer at Chester, which scems to have been as well digested by our morning contemporary as "Douglas' Account of Himself" was by the theatrical hero of Drurylane. Mr. Gladstone wants the people of England, as we have wanted the inhabitants of Vancouver Island, to send men into the Legislature who make politics a studywhose ideas are not confined to selling real estate or a hogshead of sugar, but embrace the more comprehensive, and let us say more important subject of the "happiness and prosperity of our fellow-countrymen." The 'unprofessional politician" of the Chronicle calls the speech of Mr. Gladstone an "exceptional" one, and befogs himself in the most lamentable manner over the meaning of "professional politicians." Now he thinks the Chancellor of the Exchequer is wrong, then he thinks he is right, but that he means something different from what the Chronicle and other sages of the country in their wisdom have been terming "professional Politicians." "Wittles is wittles, sir, in Hingland, but in the colonies, bless your hears, it's only grub." "A spade, sir; did you say a spade? we allers call it a shovel." We are really afraid the wits of our "un contemporary, the Chronicle have gone on the woolgathering excursion. What the Chancellor of the Exchequer said was plain and simple. "There is ample space and occupation in the House of Commons for what are called men of business, country gentlemen, manufacturers, merchanis, shipowners and railway directors ; but if you wish," said Mr. Gladstone, "to have the business of the country carried on, you must be content to return to the House of Commons a certain number of men who are to make politics their profession." Ordinary would scarcely misunderstand the clear and unmistakable language of the English statesman; but our contemporary is not an ordinary mortal; he sees with his ears. and thinks with his tongue. He finds out that Mr. Gladstone does not know what he is really talking about and for an explanation of the meaning of "professional politician in England" commends to our notice, and we presume to the notice of the Chancellor of Exchequer, a confused jumble of extracts from the Edinburgh Review on Australian politics. If we were to give an opinion generally of the manner in which the Reviewer treats his topic we should say he is as little versed in colonial life as he appears to be in ordinary ratiocination; for a more unmistakable heap of literary rubbish than the article in question it would be almost difficult to conceive. At one momen he talks of the colonies being under the domination of stump orators, and in the next says the stump orators are few who have

moment a seat in the Legislature is "an object for the needy " and in the next it is " without reward "—fitting balderdash to sustain our contemporary's "unprofessional So much for the "upprofessions politician We come now to yesterday's luttoration, in which it is beautifully stated that Wharf street is carrying Cariboo on its back (what a load !) -that the " Union and Tariff " party have ruined the country-and that the great, the good, and the wise men of Vancouver Island must come forward while there is yet time and save the colony. We shall take the last brilliant idea first, and see who the wise men are who are thus hiding their light under a bushel. From the flunkey attitude which the scribbler shows to Wharf stree we naturally conclude it is from this region our safety is to come. Unfortunately, however, for the "unprofessional politician," those wise men have been the very class who have had the colony in their safe keeping for nearly seven years, and a nice mess they have made of it. The population of the country, instead of increasing it something like a colonial ratio, has been more frequently diminishing, and to-day with all the millions of gold that have arrived in Victoria from the mines, we cannot show a single permanent industry on the Island that was not in existence in 1858! This is government with a vengeance— a glorious specimen of "unprofessional" wisdom. The old worn out burcombe about "all creation" coming to trade with Victoria is again rehashed by our benighted contemporary, and a kind of pharisaical groan is uttered at the suspension of shipments from England. If the writer had the most common place observation he would know that English shipments have not been frightened by any tariff cry, but by the fact that the market has actually been glutted with English goods—that the demand is not a tittle of the supply, and that articles of clothing are obliged to be sold at a consideraable reduction on the manufactured price. If there had been any earthly benefit in the free port here was an opportunity to have shown it; but, alas, the outer world made but a small demand upon us. Our exports of imported merchandise will be less this year than ever, and there is no prospect under the most unrestricted trade of their again increasing, unless population can gained the votes of the colonists.' At one

THE SHOOTING CHARGE. - Mr. J. W. Trahey appeared on remand in the Police Court yesterday to answer a charge of shooting and wounding an Indian with gun shot. Inspector Welsh stated that the case could not be proceeded with in consequence of the of a material witness. The Magistrate said the charge of shooting and wounding with intent, was a felony punishable with ing with intent, was a foliony punishable with fifteen years transportation, and was too serious to be summarily dismissed. Mr. Trahey addressed the Court stating that he did not deny that the gun had been fired by him, but he most positively defied that he had been actuated by any malicious intention. He never saw the Indian at all who was wounded when he fired, and it was furthest from his intention to do anybody bodily harm. He was quite willing if the Magistrate thought fit to have the facts sent bodily harm. He was quite willing it the Magistrate thought fit to have the facts sent to a jury, but wished the matter to be disposed of at once. Mr. Pemberton said he was placed in an awkward position, but he was not justified in too hastily disposing of the case; it was a bad example to set, but he would remand the case for three days, and in the meantime the witness might be forth-

But it appears thit the fair and favorite rebel representative of her sex did not, after all, "strike such a big lead,", as they say in the mountains. Among the latest gossip of a Paris correspondent we find the following:—Mr. Erlanger, who married Miss Siddell, is, if not a bankun, at any rate a runged man in fee. Application was made to his Honor the Chief Justice yesterday, under special leave of the Court, to dissolve an injunction obtained at the instance of A. D. MR. Cary then proceeded to show cause why the interlocatory injunction should be dissolved. He commented at some length upon the affidavit of the plaintiff, stating the answers to the various allegations it contained, and read the affidavits of Sebright Green and Robert Plummer in support of his case.

Mr. Wood replied, but observed that his Honor was not paying any attention to his remarks, and thereupon sat down.

His Honor sault the defendants had shown sufficient cause why the injunction granted by him should be removed, and nothing that counsel could say would alter his determination.

The injunction was therefore modified so as not to prohibit the publication of the paper until Fuesday next, when the whole question will come up for argument.

J. G. SHEPHERD. Manager, Victoria

Apart from the peril of being continually pulled up for insulting the Government, it appears that in the semi-barbarous districts the police assume the right of flogging them. The magistrate of Essegg kened an order prohibiting the inhabitants from buying their meat of a batcher across the Irave, who sold it a penny a pound cheaper than the town butcher. The editor of the local paper wrote a sharp comment upon the order, for which he was summoned before the own captain, who told him that if he ever dired to write against the megistrate again to would receive BOARDING SCHOOL Contracted or Stiff Joints.

All the medicines in the London dispensaries would barely benefit, much less cure, any chionic cases of contracted or stiff joints; whereas if this invaluable of intent be effectually rubbed into such parts twice a day, the effects will be immense Paralytic patients even can derire advantages from this fine remedy when other means fail.

Scorbutio Humours .- Scald Head and Skin

Diseases.

Scorbutic humors arise from an impure state of the blood, and in most cases the liver and stomach are the organs at fault. The Pilis will specify restore these to a healthy action; while the Oint ment if well rutbed in at least twice a day, will soon cure any case of skin disease. Soldiers, sailors, and miners, use this famous Ointment in all parts of the world.

Bad Logs, Bad Breasts.- Old Wounds, Sorce and Ulcers.

It is surprising how quickly a sore, ulcer, or wound, deprives the body of strength, and unfits it for the duties of life; but it is no less wonderful to watch the effect of Holloway's Healing Ontention of the printed directions, and assisted by appropriate doses of the Pills. The pain, indamnation, and other morbid manifestations, soon disappear from the affected part and health and strength return.—
This treatment creates sound fiesh, and therefore makes its cures complete.

Holloway's Pills for Indigestion, Stomach and Liver Complain's.—Persons suffering from any derangement of the Liver, Stomach, or the Organs of Digestion, should have recourse to Holloway's Pills, as there is no Medicine known that acts on these particular complaints with such certain success. They strengthen the tone of the Stomach, increase the Appetite, purify the Blood, and correct deprayed Secretions. In Bowel somplaints they remove their primary cause, and soon restore the Patient to sound health. Nervous or sick headaches, and depression of apritts, may be speedily relieved by a course of these Pills. They are composed of rare balanns, without the admixture of a grain of Mercury, or any noxious substance, and are as safe as they are effectious.

Hollowat's Ointment and Pills, a certain remedy for diseases of the skin—Ringworm, scurvy, scrofula, or king's evil, sore heads, and the most inveterate skin diseases to which the human race is subject, cannot be treated with a more aske and speedy remedy than Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which act so peculiarly on the constitution, and so purify the blood that those diseases are eradicated from the system, and a lasting cure is obtained. They are equally efficacious in the cure of tumours, burns, scalds, glindular swellings, ulcerous wounds, rheumatism, contracted and stiff joints. These medicines operate mildly and surely. The cure offected by them is not temporary or apparent only, but complete and permanent.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are decidedly the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach and bowels, the liver and kidneys. They act with so decided an effect, and yet so gently, that people of the most delicate constitutions may take them with the most perfect confidence. They do not contain one grain of mercury or other noxious substance, being composed exclusively of rare balsams. They are, therefore, equally safe and cofficacious, and as a family medicine, nothing yet invented or discovered can be compared with them for a moment. With these inestimable Pille at hand, together with the printed directions affixed to each box, no other medical advice or assistance can be needed in any ordinary case of sick.

Hollowat's Pills—General debility, low spirits, and nervous irritation, are the consequences of dyspepsia or indigestion. The Pills soon give tone to the stomach, renovate the digestive powers, purify the blood, and give strength to the whole system. Sluggishness of the body and depression of the mind are succeeded by a cheerful activity of the physical and mental functions. Indigestion is the parent of so many evils, and is so common, so universal a complaint, that it is a great biessing that such a remedy as this invaluable medicine should have been discovered. No one need long suffer from indigestion with these Pills at hand.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Acute Rheumatism. In all severe pains in the joints and muscles, after due fomentation with hot water, the soothing action of this Ointment is most remarkable; it seems at once to lessen inflammation, ense pain, reduce the swelling, restore the free circulation, and expel the disease. In these com plaints, indeed, Holloway's Ointment and Pills are an infallible specific. The Ointment should be rubbed as near the part in pain as the patient can bear; it is absorbed and directly conveyed to the diseased textures, when, acting on nerves, vessels, and guiders, it will arrest disease and again establish healthy action. The aperient and purifying qualities of the Pills have the happiest effect in assisting the Ointment.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills—Palpitation, shortness of Breath, Dropsy—This last named disease is often preceded by irregular action of the heart, and difficult respiration which symptoms are always severe, and ever go from bad to worse, unless proper means of ourse be resorted to in Holloway's unrivalled Ointment and Pills the dronsical patient will ever find succour; the present reliaf derived from the use of these remedies is marvellously quick, and perseverance in the steady application of this noble ointment invariably results in a lasting and satisfactory cure. The two medicines act with such energy on the oirendation and absorbent system, that the dropsical fluid vanishes, and the suffering finds all the oppressive symptoms delly deeline, till natural health returns.
